"Unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it."

From a sketch springs
a blueprint,
blueprint for illuminating.
As a house develops from an inanimate blueprint,
an Immaculate Heart
girl builds her life
along blue and white lines drawn for her.
Her high school days develop a blueprint for adulthood,
tracing a future over experience.
But a blueprint requires draftsmen, guide lines—
these must be strong and true—fulfilling their purpose with care.
Material for the blueprint must be provided.
Details are needed for interest.
Part must be proportioned for the good of the whole.
A key must be given to enable all to read the blueprint.
These are to be found in this Immaculate Heart blueprint—a sketch of life at Immaculate Heart.
Life only illuminates this blueprint.

To you, our parents, in gratitude for placing us in the hands of strong and dedicated draftsmen,
we dedicate this 1961 cor Mariae.

Administration and Faculty

Working under fall's amber skies the faculty prepares to assist once more in the development of an Immaculate Heart blueprint.
This is an important function—that of planning and of seeing that the plans are allowed and helped to develop in the best manner possible.
All teachers are moulders of people but few are the teachers with the sublime privilege of moulding future citizens of heaven.
Because of its exalted aim the faculty of a Catholic high school must be dedicated,
must be fortified by the sacraments,
must be enlightened by the Spirit of God in all things.
This is an awesome task
and ours is the deepest gratitude for the self-giving way in which this task is accomplished.
Something of the beauty of the lives of our Sisters is to be found reflected in the Immaculate Heart blueprint as the year unrolls itself before us.

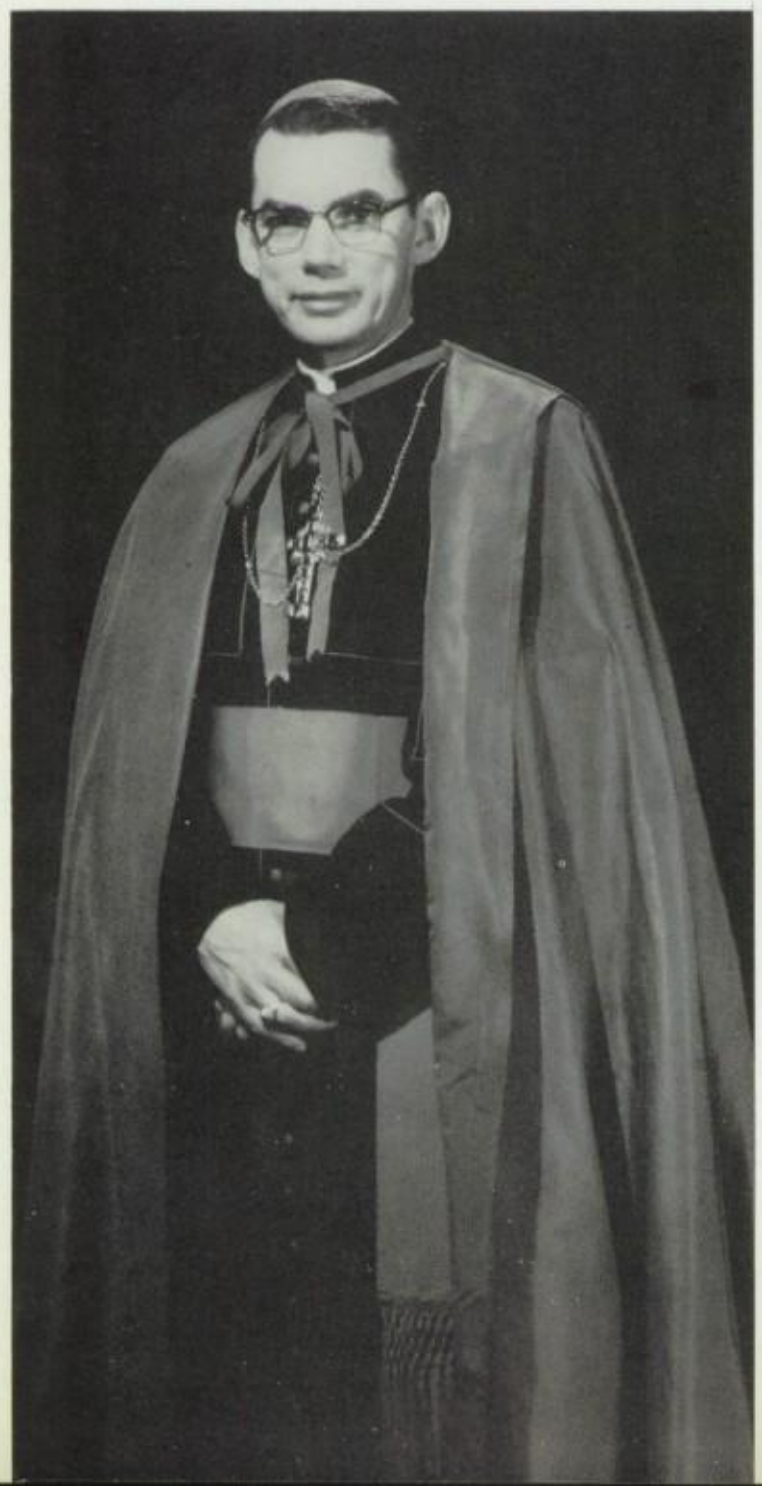
His Eminence,
James Francis Cardinal McIntyre,
Archbishop of Los Angeles.



Most Reverend Alden J. Bell, D.D.,
Auxiliary Bishop of Los Angeles.

Most Reverend Timothy Manning, D.D.,
Auxiliary Bishop of Los Angeles.

This page is respectfully dedicated to Father Bernard Martin, who has come into our midst to be "another Christ" to us.

"Each soul a temple
a dwelling place for God . . ."
is the blueprint fashioned by the Divine Architect and carefully followed by His priest,
another Christ,
at work building a sacred temple
of our soul.

Personal interest and care prepare the material,
make it ready,
receptive . . .
through Him.

The framework rises
brick by brick through teaching and days in class . . .
with Him.

He strengthens the world structure from within making it fast
with the Sacrifice of the temple's altar . . .
in Him.

Cooperation of student body officers, Pat Hishiki, Clayton Scanlon, Mary Fay and Joyce Maddox, and unity of the school are made easy through the loving guidance of Mother Eucharia.

Hands - strong with dedication

Sister Mary Angela describes new and interesting books in the library to upper division English teachers, Sister Mary Martha, Sister Eulalia and Sister Lenore. (A Hole Is To Dig, A Friend Is Someone Who Likes You, Love Is a Special Way of Feeling, Openhouse for Butterflies???)

Miss Budke, Sister St. Anne and Sister Janet discuss current events. ("How do you present your long range assignments?") draw true lines...

Sister Mechtilde gives some helpful advice to Miss Wilkerson in her new-found position as sophomore section teacher. (Shorthand was never like this, was it Miss Wilkerson?)

Discussing the latest achievements of the sophomores can be quite interesting. Right, Sister Natalie, Sister Julius, Sister Francesca? ("Sunbeams" are somewhat irrespressible, aren't they?)

Looking for more ways for the "Senior Senators" to top the rest of the school are Sister Andrew, Sister Joseph Mary and Sister Mary James. (Are they planning an outer space trip with the help of that Physics book?)

Their mutual interest, French, its literature and grammar, occupy most of the conversations between Sister Rose Carmel and Miss McDonough. ("How do you teach that EU sound?")

Hands

- kind with charity

Sister Teresita and Sister Esperanza make plans for the entry in the Guadalupe Procession. (Will the monster of the language lab participate?)

Mrs. Blessum, Miss Wodaman and Miss Jasmin stop to chat during a brief break in their busy schedule. ("Busy" seems best to describe all I.H. faculty, regardless of department.)

Exchanging notes before class are Sister Albertine and Sister Julia. (Musical ones, we would judge.)

Sister Cortona, Miss Hildebrand and Sister Raimunda enjoy a few minutes respite from the hectic rush of the registrar's office. (Forms, forms, forms . . .)

Mr. Teague seems to experience no problems in holding down the only male-staffed position at Immaculate Heart as he wields his baton with a knowing air (Let's try it once more, girls, this time on tune)

Student Government

Guidelines admonish the architectdisciplining careless drawing.
Like the guidelines,
our student government
restrains our natural tendency to forget the importance of the overall pattern in favor of our own interests.
In order to be effective
the boundaries of any enterprise must be specifically stated, and faithfully adhered to.
The privilege of leadership carries with it the corresponding responsibility of a giving of self through constant example.
In order to exact respect one must be deserving of respect.
Immaculate Heart has set for itself a high standard;
the student leaders enable us all to work toward that goal through the enforcement of the necessary regulations which will guarantee the successful accomplishment of the task before us.

Selfless example

Appearances are deceiving. Despite the grave and serene pose Student Body President Mary Fay is taking in this picture, there is in her a nature as gay as her red head of hair. The endless rounds of assemblies, meetings, student court, senior control posts, announcements and problems cannot daunt her ready smile, her cheerful songs, her encouraging words, her enthusiastic help for one and all. Mary's unselfishness and generosity have made her loved by sodalists, boarders, seniors. She always finds time to attend St. Anthony's games, sodality activitiies, hikes in the poison oak hills of the Valley. Lettering, (roman and chancery), designing "walls" on the theme of her favorite song — "The Sound of Music" — and swimming are some of the "fun things" that fill the life of Immaculate Heart's favorite Fay. All have found in her a luminous quality which marks her as an apt instrument in the hands of the Divine Architect.

The task of dispensing discipline on a student level rests upon the capable shoulders of Joyce Maddox, vice-president of the student body.

Patricia Hishiki, treasurer, is directly responsible for the regulation of student body funds under the direction of the principal.

In the efficient hands of Clayton Scanlan, as student body secretary, the record of the 1960-1961 school year is expertly written.

Student Council
wields authority -
tempered with charity,
strengthened by generosity,
to enable plans
to progress successfully

Experience in a limited way often prepares the student to take on greater responsibilities in the future. These juniors take the place of seniors occasionally: L. Wilson, L. Evans, K. McKee, G. Timbrell, M. Wissenback, L. Vreszck, S. La Londe, H. Johnson, M. Myers, M. J. McBrearty, K. Chiniquy, D. Zellers, B. Chahin, A. Nocerine, J. Maddox, J. Hague, A. Harrison, S. Bogardus, C. Smith, J. Di Tona, G. Navarro, G. Gutierrez, E. Banashek, K. Noland.

Assistance in the complicated and time-consuming task of attendance checking is generously provided by G. Timbrell, A. Schroeder, J. Johnson, D. Dufau, D. Zellers, M. Guest, C. Genneway, B. Chahin, A. Nocerine, C. Glynn, V. Sawaya.

Student Government builds toward good citizenship

From "birds of a feather" (with real red feathers) to the lamentations from the Mass of Good Friday expresses the scope and variety of student body bulletin boards produced by versatile and creative Carol Fegte.

Although not strictly members of the student government, these librarians do fill a need of the entire school.

Classes

The planning of the draftsmen, the restraint of the guide lines
all of these perform empty functions unless there is paper to work upon—the material for the blueprint.
Lines and shading trace upon the paper the preconceived plan.
At Immaculate Heart
the girls provide the raw material.
It is their cooperation,
their docility to guidance,
their eagerness to learn which makes possible the drawing that will be a blueprint of this year 1961,
and of future years,
leading into the timelessness of eternity.

Coming to school seems to be quite an enjoyable feat for the 1961 Freshman Class officers. The "Starlets" are led by Karen O'Connell as Secretary, Pat Freedman as Vice-President, President Martha Fay and Terry Doyle as Treasurer.

No matter how carefully the plans are thought through, the blueprint needs good paper in order that it can be read. Paper that is strong and fine textured, able to withstand necessarily rough handling and the correction of errors by erasing.

The Freshman Class of 1961 came to Immaculate Heart with a desire to learn all that could be taught spiritually, intellectually, culturally, socially. The choice of class name — "Starlets" — in some way testifies to littleness and brightness and steadiness.

The first lines, the basic lines have been drawn. The future alone will tell whether or not the finished product will be worthwhile.

Initial endeavors
call for skillful guidance and enthusiastic leadership.

Hi Bea
I'am back again
have a great summer.
Why should I work
all this marsh
you and I will be together all summer.
What do you think of our two new future sophs? you know who I mean don't know you?
Love you as much as ever. (I really mean that) Terrie

In preparation for their last game, class cheerleaders, Diane LoPresti, Lesle Krause, Karen Hansen and Donna Castelli come forth with encouragement for their team.

An asset to the Freshman Class was their up and coming Volleyball team. Members are: Linda Sawaya, Christine Bruttig, Sheila Dalton, Anita Herman, Valentina Varnas, Shirley Shean, Christa Meade, Mary Brittingham, Beatrice Boutz, Martha Smilgis, Nikki Lubich, Pat Chapman, Barbara Wagonis, Tomi Anne Ebbesen, Maureen Sweeney.

Proving her enthusiasm for sports, Shiela Dalton was named most valuable player on the Freshman volleyball team and succeeded in capturing a position on the Varsity Basketball team.

Dear Bea -
you've been so quiet and studious this year - next year make sure to wake up and live! (grin) Always stay as sweet as you are! With love, Irene

That freshman is "up in the air" to win during the intramural game against the juniors. • • • • • Unlike most upper classmen, Lynsay Wilson can count two blessings. Her little sisters are Irene Basey and Patricia Dunning. • • • • • In music appreciation, too, the freshmen show a never-failing enthusiasm.

Raimonda Apeikas, Patricia Bamford, Mary Babick, Maralena Agiular, Kathryn Anderson, Frances Armstrong, Evelia Artavia, Margaret Audet, Cheryl Algeo.

Marian Beatty, Meriley Brewer, Mariley Berrien, Donna Bennes, Gay Betz, Paula Beach, Mary Brittingham, Kathy Blessum.

Mary Brooks, Christine Bruttig, Yvonne Burdo, Kathleen Callanan, Christine Call, Phyllis Bruttig, Modonna Brow, Beatrice Buoc, Eugenia Butler.

A tense moment on Drama I calls for a variation of response from Sister Doule's future Genesians. • • • • • Mary Ellen Thom's load of homework (look at all those books) cannot dim the joy of another day ended, and to top it all, here comes the bus.

Laurian Crowley, Lynne Chipman, Kathleen Carpenter, Devon Dalby, Donna Castelli, Tracy Chick, Regina Champlin.

Sheila Dalton, Maria Del Re, Linda DeLucia, Patricia Dunning, Susan Donoghue, Rose Marie DeLurgio, Cecilia DeMontesquiou, Linda DeFelice.

Jane Gallagher, Mary Eaton, Pat Freedman, Thomasina Ebbesen, Marie Dyer, Martha Fay, Barbara Ficher, Carol Edwards.

Studying doesn't seem to be too unpleasant a task for these "Starlets of 1961." • • • • • "Lockers, combinations, books, mess" —something had to be done and Angie Rehr did it; she finally straightened her locker.

Mary Harrison, Pamela Gray, Linda Gross, Barbara Gregorie, Janet Gorman, Jo Carol Grienauer.

Jo Anne Horita, Debora Shudy, Linda Hoag, Jayne Hickey, Stephanei Ignatowski, Susan Igauye, Margaret Hinkel, Hedy Johnson, Sylvia Gomez, Brenda Ibarra.

Cornelia Nestor, Ann Nicols, Cecily Moss, Judith Nishimoto, Ann Niblo.

Could it be that these three freshmen, Nancy Mikol, Linda Miles and Jeannette Mora are already picking out places for lunch time in 1964? • • • • • "Seems too bad that such a lovelly ride leads only to school," isn't the reaction of Mary Kirchen, Cathy Callanan, Mary Ann Molloy.

Elena Orellana, Judiann Orlando, Karen O'Connell, Teresa Odenwald, Olwin O'Herlihy.

Catherine Polverini, Catherine Peters, Renee Orozco, Karol Pfeifer.

Maria Prozost, Judith Potthast, Judith Quinones, Kathleen Raney, Rosemary Ragland.

Freshman section presidents; Linda Miles, Pat Duning, Donna Swangren, Maureen Orr and Diana Braun do some of the preliminary planning for their first dance at Immaculate Heart. • • • • • Center of help and attention is senior Molly Merrill, who gives of her know-how to freshman decorators. • • • • • The longed-for night arrives, and freshman girls with their escorts hesitate before joining the dancing couples.

Diane Roberts, Alexandra Robinson, Linda Rivera, Angela Reher.

Diana Roman, Anita Roman, Cynthia Ross, Sally Rush, Gwen Saubel.

Pat Scully, Marilyn Sievering, Mary Schroeder, Barbara Shirahama, Shirley Shean, Lorraine Savegh, Linda Sawaya, Cornelia Nestor.

Future artists Donna Bennes, Cecily Moss, Chris Call, Diane Roberts and Donna Swangren eagerly attack their first art project.
• • • • • Judy Pollack and Nancy Rehm share and share alike with Dianne LoPresti and Sally Rush, their little sisters.

Dorothy Smythe, Beatriz Solorzano, Martha Smilgis.

Margaret Stevens, Una Srichandra, Marilyn Sultao, Susan Sorrells, Barbara Stevens.

Mary Ellen Thom, Maureen Sweeney, Marjorie Taylor, Susan Thornton, Donna Swangren.

Bernadette Withers and Pam Davis outside Room D as they pause to tell Sister Giovanni of their awards in the Bill of Rights Contest. • • • • • Egypt, its culture, laws and history, came alive for freshman in History I. • • • • • Someone seems to know the answer to a thought-provoking question in Religion I.

Catherine Vallone, Valentino Varnas, Karen Umpleby, Johanna Ver Halen, Carol Tsuboi, Laurel Turgeon.

Michele Ward, Barbara Wagonis, Terese White, Denise Williams, Kathleen Villar.

Margaret Wittenburg, Maureen Wolfe, Jo Ann Wood, Bernadette Withers, Antoinette Wood.

Kathy Rauchfuss leads her aspirant group through a quick resume of the rules of Our Lady's Sodality. • • • • • Pat Chapman, Starlets' Varsity Queen candidate, and Diane Knapp join in dispensing "fabulous freshman foodstuffs" while Pat Freedman dishes up more plates in the class's luncheon. • • • • • Concern is written all over Prexy Martha Fay's face as she watches a faculty member dip into the class's hard-earned funds.

School books, smiles and spirit have marked the "Sunbeams" shining path. Characteristic of some of these qualities are class officers, Chris Newman, treasurer; Kim Packard, vice-president; Shirley Hosoi, president; Julie Sheehan, secretary.

A certain quality of aliveness and spontaneity marks any plan of worth. This very quality must be controlled, but it is important for it is indicative of future strength.

The sophomore year brings the development of the blueprint in a very pronounced way. Strong lines are appearing, drawn with decision that replaces the hesitancy of the first year.

Under capable leadership the Sophomore Class, "Sunbeams", has manifested its ability to build along lines traced out for it, as well as the ability to add its own touches of originality.

To build - one must recognize past errors
and plan future improvements.

"Sun" beaming sophomore volleyball team shines with the smiles of Mary Armstrong, Theresa Seta, Mary Ann Giammarino, Maria Ramirez, Donna Simonini, Georgina Oitker, Mary Lou Apel, Betty Callanan, Mary Nocerine, Karen Pavelka, Katie Strobel, Barbara Shankland.

Maria Ramirez seems to be calling the meeting of presidents and vice-presidents of the tenth grade class to order as she addresses Kathy McGreevy, Teresa Taga, Ann Dietz, Pat Foley, Marcee Gearin, Virginia Hughes, Belinda Comer, Mary De Mangus, and Michele Monteleone.

Enthusiasm has become the byword for the Sophomore Class and the cheerleaders play no small part in this same enthusiasm—Sue Stember, Carla Librizzi, Susan Jacobs, and Kim Packard.

Their second Welcome Day found the sophomores secure in their "know how" and eager to try for places in the upperlevel.

Sodality representatives from some of the sophomore sections are ready to carry out the doctrine of Our Lady's Sodality. Kathy Glynn, Barbara Winter, Marie Gamboa, Mary Lou Apel, Miriam Rumjhan, Carole Ginthner, Kathy Gregory. • • • • • "Big and Little Sister Day" finds seniors taking over the role of guidance—here Terry Lee teaches her little sisters the delicate art of "toss and catch."

Barbara Shankland, Marina Petrov, Kathy Prettyman, Jan Sooter, Roberta Roy, Kathy Miller, Angelica Nikoloff, Mary Meyers.

Jo Anne Clark, Kathy Dumbrille, Patricia Foley, Josephine De la Cruz, Loretta Dobson, Eleanor Cordes, Sue Amateau, Barbara Brown, Sandra George, Linda Bourdon, Arian David, Loretta Baptista.

Mary Jo Thornton, Shirley Hosoi, Terri Sweeney, Kathy Ucker, Sue Stephens, Cheryl Walker, Patricia Ward, Serena Ventura.

Sometimes the before-the-dance preparations are made more fun than the dance itself. Here sophomores follow Sister Francesca's direction. • • • • • The ultimate in transformation of the auditorium has been achieved. The new dress is even prettier than Pat dreamed; the orchestra is tuning up, and that heart carries a provocative message.

Geronimos are usually to be feared, but no one could be anything but enchanted by these leaders of the Junior "Geronimos." Lined up for fun, not fighting, are Chief Anne Harrison, Vice-President Guillermina Gutierrez, Treasurer Sandi Bogardus and Secretary Helene Johnson.

Basic lines have been traced out, development has progressed, and the final ordering alone remains to be done. The Junior year is in some way one of completion and promise — the preliminary steps have all been taken, the actual building can soon begin.

Along strong lines, the Junior Class has moved towards the assuming of responsibility as school leaders. The promise of this class as underclassmen has been realized in a most gratifying manner.

Completion and promise keynote the Junior year.

Senior Senators "raise on high their standards" for Alma Mater

Election year and senior year find the "Senators" measuring up to their responsibilities as future citizens under the direction of President Jane Johnson, Treasurer Vickie Matthews, Secretary Sharon August and Vice-President Patti Fifield.

Senior Classes provide the last touches to a nearly finished blueprint Molly Merrill's psalm page draws the attention of Miss Woodaman and other Advanced Art students.

Interested girls taking shorthand pause to watch fellow classmates take a dictation.

The results of the Trojan War are discussed by Latin IV students who claim to have lost limbs in the battle.

Senior section officers Anne Doucette, Diane Lawlor, Sue Fields, Ethel Olah, Margie May, Daneille Kaczmarek, Sharon Brooks, Linda Heenan and Anita Santos agree with Kitty Matthews that "Our Man Jack" has won an election.

Planning "fun" parties is always an exciting thing to do and this year's Senior Class found the experience of the Christmas Party a memorable one. The auditorium was transformed into a veritable treasure house of presents, toys, christmas tree and goodies, with a real alive sugar plum fairy, under the capable direction of Sherry Brooks. Presents for faculty members, Genesians skit, carols in French, music "par ex-cellence" from the Glee Club and orchestra provided the proper settting for the jewel of the party, the Gospel according to St. Luke . . . "In those days a decree went forth from Caesar Augustus . . ."

With a smile and a cheery "good morning" traffic control "officers" welcome students to school.

Sister Joseph Mary, Kathy Dearing and Deanna Watters watch jubilantly as Sister Mary James checks the proceeds from the Senior Class luncheon.

"Just a little bit more to the side," says Mr. Christy as he shoots another senior (picture.)

Lunches are thoroughly enjoyed as seniors congregate on the front lawn at noon.

Even "slinkeys" find their way into the physics classroom. Sharon Holmstrom records the data as Sophie Barabas, Hedy Niziuk, Clayton Scanlan, Pat Hishiki and Bonnie Roessler conduct the experiment.

Ellen Sullivan, junior, gets a "friendly" welcome into French IV from seniors Dorothy McDermott, Pat Rangel and Ethel Olah.

The seniors start on their way to the play, "J.B."

Seniors are ready to build a new trophy case for Molly Merrill, their star speaker.

Major Organizations

As the blueprint drawing progresses, its objective becomes quite clear—to provide the necessary direction for the construction of a living temple to house the Living God.
In order for the building to develop beautifully and richly,
that is, along the lines
of cultural, intellectual and physical development, there must be a certain emphasis placed upon these areas.
At times these areas appear to be magnified, but this is only a means used in order to provide for the needed concentration of attention.
No aspect of school life can be rightly viewed outside its function as part of the total plan.
The Genesians,
the G.A.A.
and the CSF
serve to contribute to the well-rounded education of each student at Immaculate Heart.
But all the activities of these organizations are orientated to the final goal of the school as set down by the principles of Catholic education Games and plays and intellectual stimulus are needed to supplement,
to complement,
to apply the actual teaching done
in the classroom.

Melody Jones

And the hyacinths are out—wonderful fat pink ones down at Anderson's. I just lay on my tummy for ten whole minutes and inhaled them.

Do I look like an apple tree in bloom?

This is the story of Melody Jones, the kind of girl every girl wants to be, because she's honest, straight-forward and uninhibited. The kind of girl every boy likes because something about her starts him singing. The kind of girl every father adores because she gives him headaches, heartaches and the joyful life. But all the joy went out of Melody and Melody's family that evening at the party when her cousin, Elaine, in a fit of jealousy, tells her she's adopted. This is the story of a young girl's laughter and tears, a story to make one proud of American Youth.

That's why you should have told her she's adopted. Not that she'll ever hear it from me, but mark my word, someday somebody's going to make a slip.

'Red Queen, white Queen'

Princess Mary: England! A grey-green isle 'neath gentle skies that well might weep our sorrow.

Anne Boleyn: I may not mix the blood, of proud Castile and ponderous Aragon in my pure English veins, but think not, therefore, I'm the less made to know my way — and take it. I have laughed with you, and romped, and made a jest of pomp and circumstance; but you shall know that I'll be—what I will be—the Queen of England.

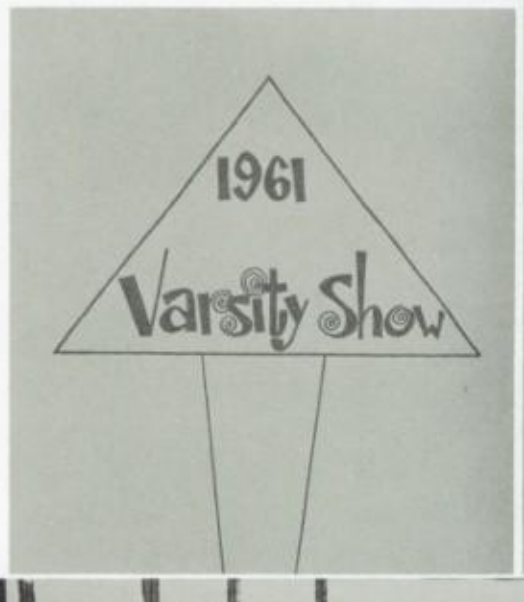
Professor Throckmorton Allbright (alias Mickey Myers, junior) travels to Mars in search for exchange student.

From the staid kitchen of a U.S. History professor, back in time to the roaring 20's, via Mars could only be possible in a G.A.A. Varsity Show.



Juniors, seniors, freshmen, sophomores, all lean forward, eagerly, anxiously, hopefully to hear President Paula Mochel's announcement that . . .

"Nora, the Sophomore's Sunshine Girl, beams confidence in her class's spirit."

Costumes and sets; needles and paint; painting and ripping; perserverance and generosity — only a few of the legion who made up these important crews.

Some of the paradoxes of U.S. history are exposed by Martian research students: "Speak for yourself, John," was first spoken by Miss Mullins as she set off for a walk with Miles Standish • • • • • The Boston Tea Party began in a Coffee Shoppe • • • • • A poor but brilliant church mouse was Ben Franklin's ghost writer.

"Juniors hope that IH will be singing, 'Cathy's Crown'."

Texas — so big that there are versions of its settlement — one by "Pioneers in Petticoats," the other by Mexican dancers. Mighty purty gals, whichever way you look at it.)

"Cherie's Queen, Cherie's Queen; she's Queen of the Varsity Show."

From the ballet about the discovery of America to a rollicking beach incident in the war between the sexes illustrates the scope of the show.

"It's done; it's done, and every bit was fun," could be sung by all on Sunday night; but on Wednesday after first dress rehearsal, Paula and Terry manifested a wee bit of concern about the whole affair.

Harvard ladies; Janice Hague, Maria Del Re', Pat Dyer, Chris Maloney, Anne Doucette, sing their wonder about the coming GNOGS.

Campus Organizations

Parts must be proportioned to the whole,
and yet each part's integrity
must be maintained.
Emphasis on the development of talents — as seen in Glee Club and Journalism,
Math & Science and French Club
—can contribute constructively only if viewed in terms of the total plan.
Correctness of attitude provides the proportion scale, channeling and guiding
these co-curricular activities.
This scale must be scrupulously applied to the campus organizations which add interest since they represent creative thought, overflowing from classroom activity.

We
love
Jack

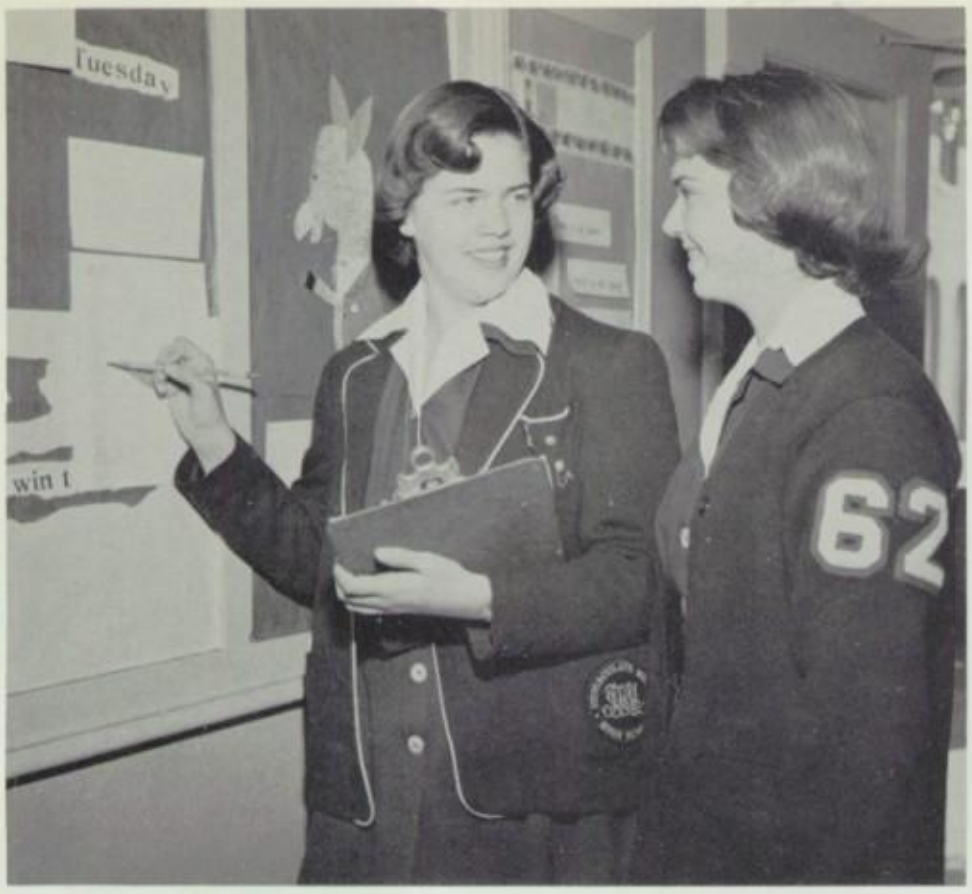
With knitting needles in hand, Editor, Kathy Rauchfuss and her assistant Patti Fifield laugh off a few worries that always go with annual deadlines.

The registrar's office is the logical place to look up the needed information on the faculty for the yearbook Faculty section. Therefore Maria Ramirez and Pat Duncan betake themselves to the source of information.

Cor Mariae traces for posterity

160 pages of a Cor Mariae mean hundreds and hundreds of pictures and reams of copy. Jacquie di Tona, Sandra Zilenkas, Lucinda Vreszk and Bonnie Benner do their bit by choosing pictures, checking sizes and other jobs.

Genesian cuts and Sodality copy receive careful and enthusiastic attention for Genesian editor Mickey Meyers and Sodality editor Terry Alnwick. Both are well qualified since they hold important posts on their respective boards.



Susie La Londe confers with Adele Schroeder as Adele fulfills her dual role of GAA treasurer and Cor Mariae sports editor.

Lelia Ganey and Sue Finley look over a new layout while Carole Cooney and Mary Jo McBrearty compare notes on the deadline.

The blueprint of a year at Immaculate Heart

Pat McClelland makes a wryly humorous comment on last year's annual as Nancy Rehm, Bonnie Roessler, Pat Hishiki, Kris Swanson and Sally Foster agree with her.

Beth Reeg and Ethel Olah check the cost of the 1961 Cor Mariae.

(Going to have enough money, girls?)

Election year inaugurated Political Science Club

"The newly-formed political science club has a bulletin board all its own." remark Michele Hoyt, vice-president, Mary Kay Greene, president, and Jo Ann Shields, treasurer.

An after-debate discussion finds Mary K. Greene, Pat Prouty and Pat Dyer victorious, but Kitty Matthews and Chris McGlassen can show no V for victory.

The Nixon faction hopefully praise its candidates in song. • • • • • Anita Santos, Michele Hoyt, Janie Johnson and Mimi Gallant formed a Quartet for praise of "Our Man Jack." Immaculate Heart goes to the polls to agree with the U.S. that J.F.K. is the man for 1961.

Immaculate Heart debaters pair off as they recall a very successful season. Ascending the steps are: Gerry Hagie and Kathie Hunt, Clayton Scanlan and Pat Dyer, Julie Sheehan and Nora Desmond, Anita Gaudioso and Mary Dugas.

Barbara Shankland performs for a decidedly partial audience of three other speech participants: Geidre Fledinskas, Frances Rasche and Irene Evashko.

Organization is necessary for efficiency, and the officers of the Math and Science Club, Vice-President Pat Rangel and President Sue Vignes, are capable of out-organizing any efficiency expert.

Sodality

No blueprint can be used unless its interpretation is made clear through the key provided.
At Immaculate Heart
the Sodality of Our Lady provides the solution to the use of this plan drawn up by the faculty,
directed by the student leaders,
developed by the students.
To read the blueprint
in the light of eternity,
the assistance of Our Lady, Seat of Wisdom,
is needed
in order that it can lead us to Him
Who is the Way,
the Truth
and the Life.

Father Denis Burke helped to make procession in honor of Our Lady a beautiful tribute to Her —Queen and Mother.

With her usual quiet smile, Prefect Sally Foster, ascends to present to Mary the rosary of Immaculate Heart's loving devotion.

Our Lady's Committee

Beaming, Anita Santos, Clayton Scanlon, Gracie Davis and Ethel Olah have a right to be proud of their merits as discussion leaders.

An informal meeting of some "extra faithful" members of Our Lady's committee would have to include Irene Evashko, Barbara Winter and Charlene Vignes.

"Last one in has to push me in the wheel chair," teases Pat Prouty as her car full leaves for Sunday hospital singing.

Destination reached, the large General Hospital building looms in sight. The mission is accomplished when Sodalists leave this structure after bringing patients to Mass.

Santa Claus Hoyt makes Christmas bright for first graders while Pat Dyer, Penny Ford and Karen Mysorski prepare to pass out presents.

Apostolic Committee

As the backbone of the committee, these discussion leaders are alive with the love of Christ and apostolic zeal.

"Counting money was never so much fun," chuckles Maureen Walsh, as other committee members Belinda Comer, Adele Schroeder, Pat Skeehan and Shirley Hosoi express delight at the generous response of the student body to the Mission Collection.

Mission Committee

Sister Ida instructs a few members of the Confraternity Class in the use of hand puppets as a teaching device. Her pupils are Eileen Banashek, Nina Skrobko, Katie Noland, Myra Muniz, Patti Fifield, Pat Fetter and Kathie Hunt.

Kathy Fink and Sherie Brooks challenge bewildered discussion leader, Tanya Gutierrez, on every conceivable point.

Discussion leaders not only perform an important function, they also prove themselves diligent sodalists in their attempts to make the weekly discussion interesting, practical and challenging.

"Sursum Corda" "Habemus ad Dominum," the sonorous Latin responses of the Mass are mastered only after many weeks of practice by Mary Theresa Clark and Carol Fegte.

Eucharistic Committee

Preparation for Mass calls for generous hands. Here a few members of the Eucharistic Committee bring the necessary items to the altar—Kathy Bacon and Cecilia Robles, the candles; Joyce Murray, the Mass book; Ina Stadalninkas and Janice Hague, the cruets.

Checking the mimeograph before running off Sodality Speak's latest edition is only one job of Editor Mimi Gallant. She also encourages Pat Prouty, Sally Foster and Mary Fay to meet the ever-present deadline.

Sodality Speaks

Louise de Montesquiou and Sandi Bogardus do a valiant job of putting up a bulletin board over the kibitzing efforts of Lynn Evans, Gudi Navarro and Pamela Fisher.

Discussion leaders of the Publicity Committee, Katie Chiniquy, Pat Duncan, Anita Guadioso, Connie Gonzalez and Nina Skɕobko, look in vain for a snack in the Stamp box.

Publicity Committee

A woman's apostolate will consist, essentially, in bringing God into the world, and the world to God. She, like Mary, must step aside to let Christ do His work. Her work, always an intensely personal affair, as was Mary's, will be quiet, unobtrusive, indispensable. Her vocation is to wait, to suggest, to inspire, and to contemplate; not to command and take the initiative, but to inspire man to command and take the initiative; not to save man but to offer him the courage and wisdom to save himself. (Fr. Willian, O.D.C.)

A smile and a kind word have characterized Baroness Von Guttenberg's long years of suffering for the rehabilitation of the German people.

Father James O'Callahan sparked the student body with his challenge to live the faith through an intellectual conviction of its worth.

"We have enough chiefs, we need Indians." If you are an able bodied, generous follower, Msg. Anthony Brouwers invites you to help the missions either actively or prayerfully.

Vocation Series

Sister Mary Roberta, IHM, commenced the vocation series by showing the beauty and the reality of religious life.

We ought to begin at the beginning which is, of course, Charity. And it is vastly important to cling vehemently to the inspired definition of Charity which is — and this is Charity — not as though we have loved

God, but that God has first loved us. That is Charity!

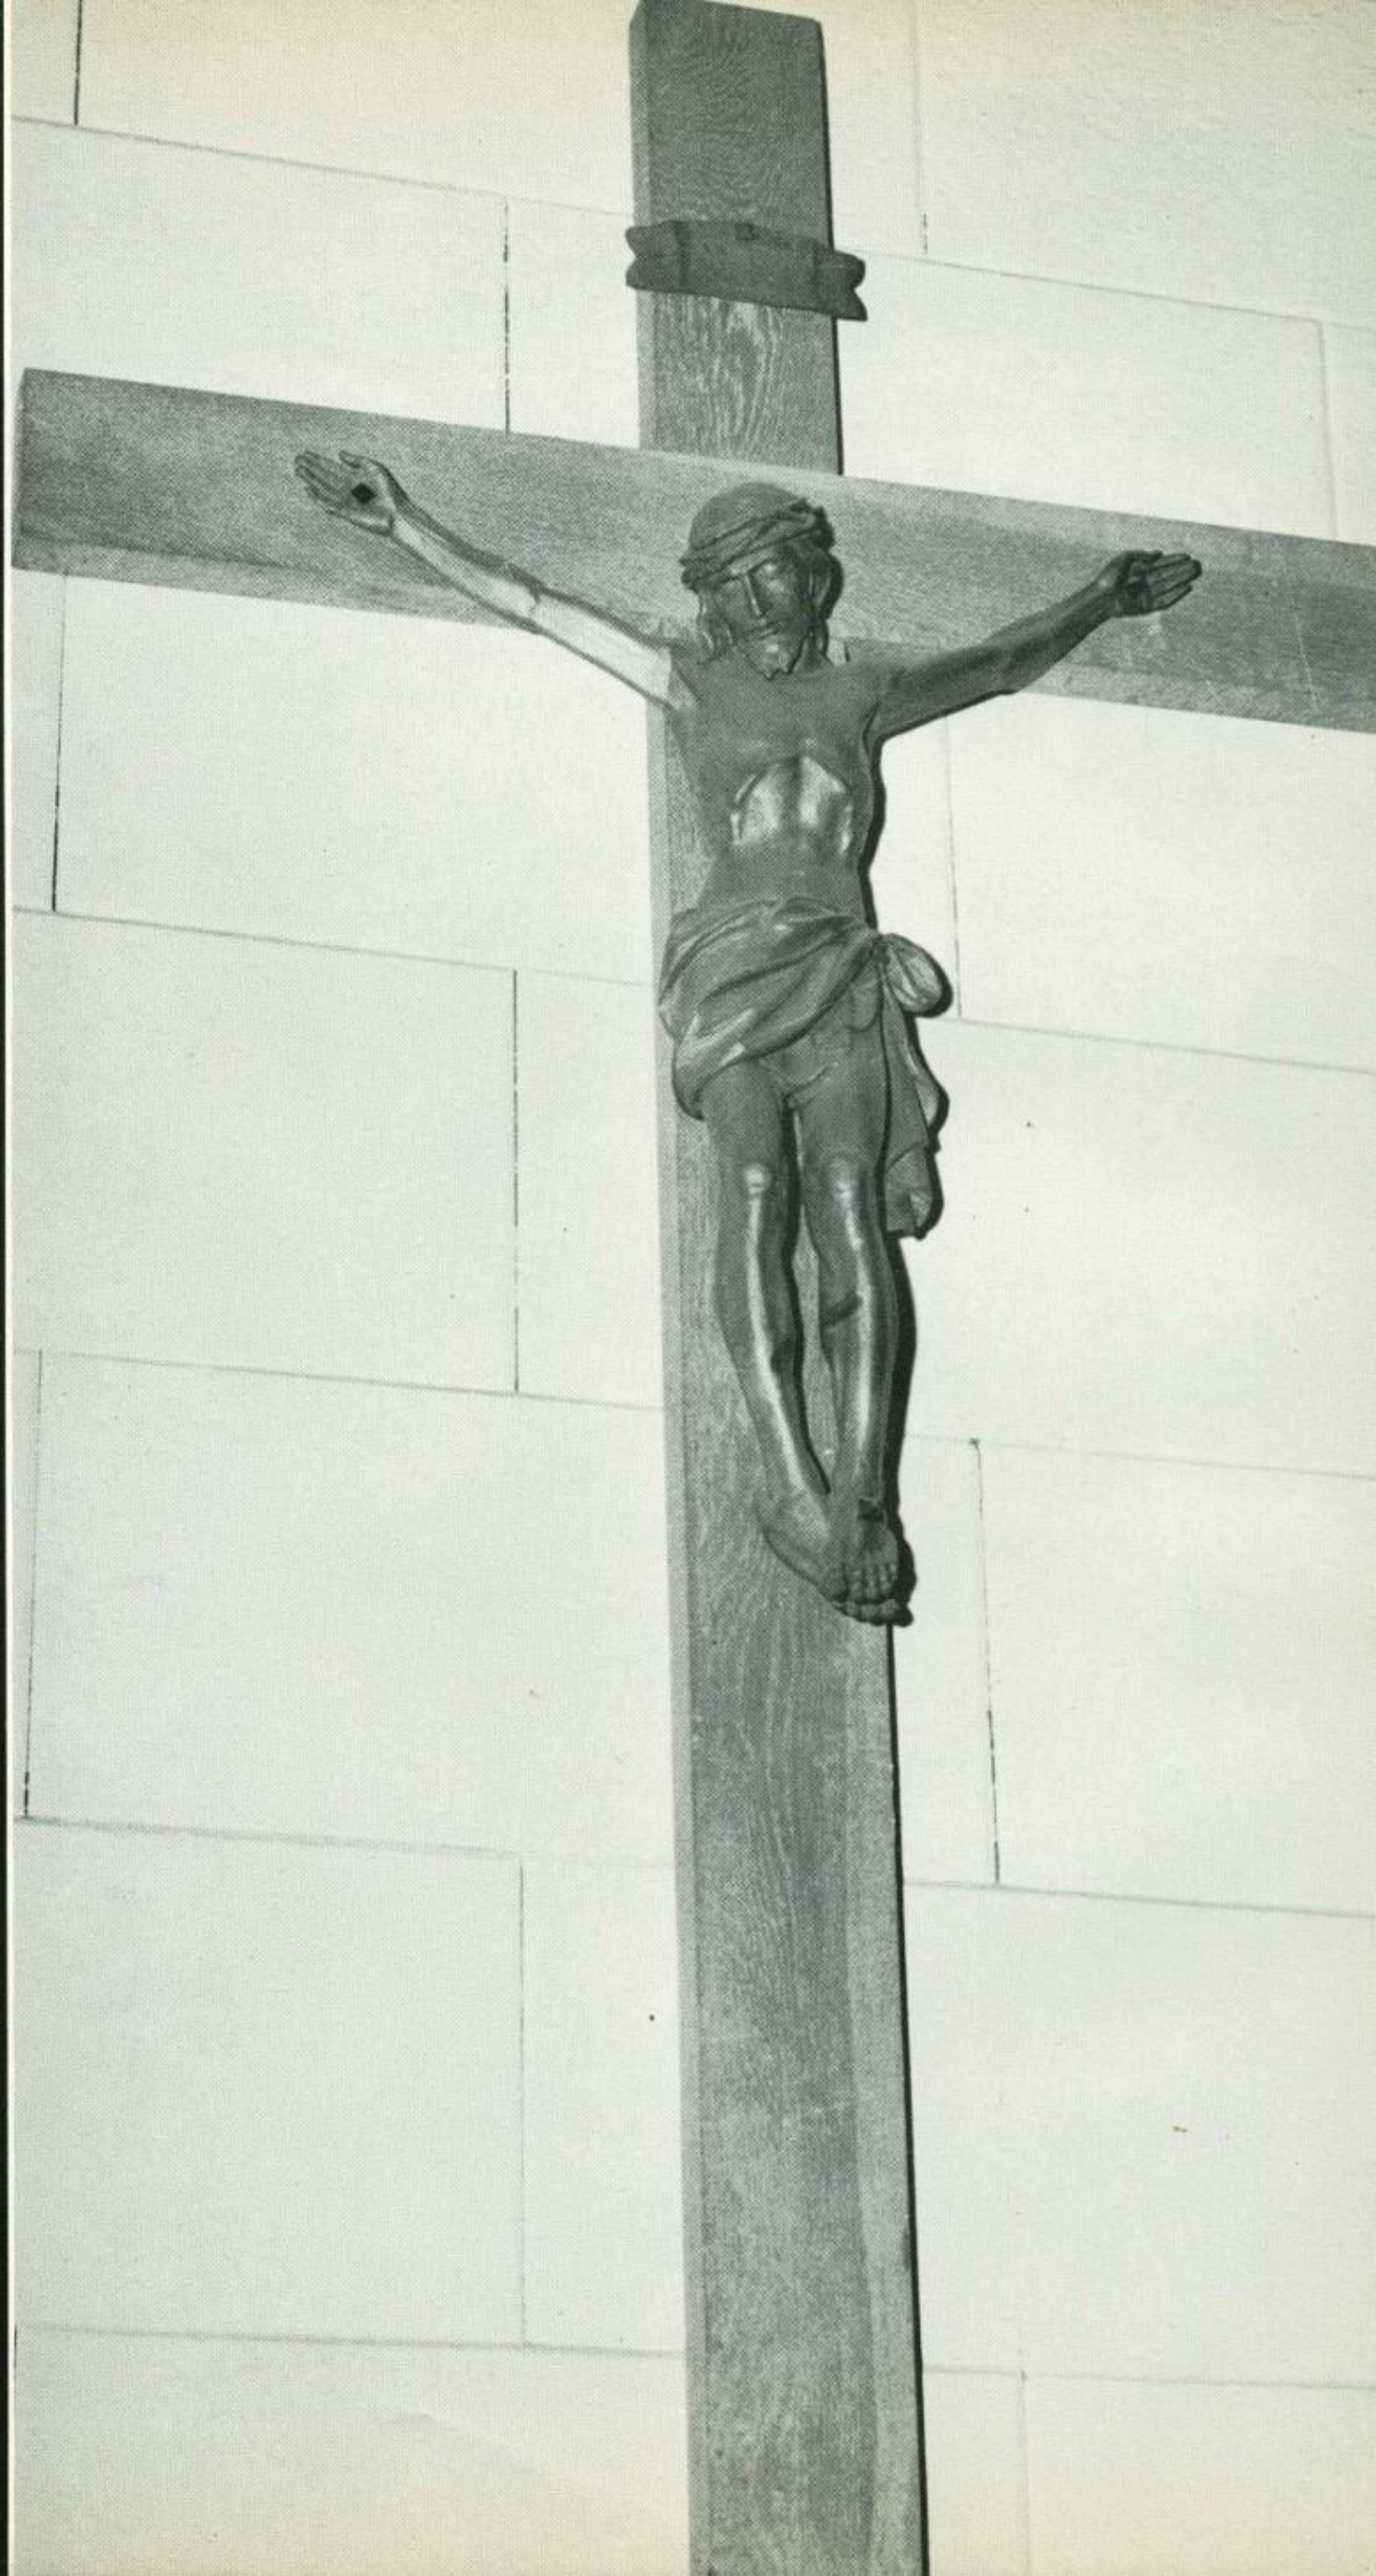
Father William, O.C.D.



The personal interview with the Sodality moderator as prescribed by the rules must be fitted into a busy schedule and here Sister Joseph Mary utilizes lunch time to question the rather apprehensive Pat McLing.

Each Wednesday finds the aspirants gathered in groups of twelve with the appointed discussion leader. Learning the rules of the Sodality through small discussion units has proved quite worthwhile for Bonnie Roessler's group.

Even the moderator lends a helping hand as the aspirants learn the meaning of the Apostolate through such activities as making corsages for patients of Immaculate Heart Hospital, Salinas, at Christmas time.

Assembly-line technique enables the efficient accomplishment of the task of putting together hymn booklets.

Aspirants learn to build the Marian way.

"ADL's—12:15 front lawn"—a signal to a group of very busy but equally generous seniors to meet in preparation for Wednesday's aspirant discussion. Aspirants discussion Leaders are: Mary Porter, Genesian Treasurer; Terry Alnwick, Sodality Secretary; Mimi Gallant, Editor of Sodality Speaks; Mary Dugas, Genesian President; Pat Prouty, Sodality Vice-Prefect and leader of the group; Pat Hishiki, Student Body Treasurer; Sharon August, Senior Secretary; Janet Heinen, Sodality Recording Secretary; Kathy Hedberg, Publicity Committee Member; Mary Fay, Student Body President, Anne Doucette, Senior Section President; Sally Foster, Sodality Prefect; Patti Fifield, Senior Vice-President; Kathy Rauchfuss, Editor of the Cor Mariae.

Being in charge of a discussion at a district Sodality meeting entails a great deal of planning. These girls have fun listening to Sr. Mary Jame's ideas.

These serious-minded Sodalists are sharing the ideas of their parish and high school Sodalities.

St. Joseph's Day finds Union Sodality District Meeting conducted by I.H. girls

When a group of well-dressed girls congregates in the arcade on a Sunday afternoon, you know they're on their way to a district Sodality meeting.

Day of Recollection

Father Stanislaus, OFM, Master of Clerics, Santa Barbara Mission:

"Grace is life—life which is equal to God's own life.
We are to live as if we belong in heaven.
We are grafted unto Christ and we live His own life. So the fruit we bear is not ours but Christ's. By doing good we give Christ a chance to work through us.
Heaven is activity—we will always have the thrill of wonder, excitement and discovery.
When we embark on the sea of faith there is the uncomfortable feeling of doubt, but ahead is discovery and adventure."

Two vice-presidents, tune in on Mrs. May's announcement. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Lawlor have been wonderfully active in raising funds for the equipping of the Language Lab.

Mrs. May, president of the Immaculate Heart Mothers Club, becomes acquainted with the "monster" (I.H.ism for the control box) and soon finds it useful in contacting her executive board.

Mothers' Club officers enjoy fruit of labors ---

Executive board members manifest as wide a variety of reactions to the voice coming over their earphones as did their daughters. Here heeding the words of their president are: Mrs. Bogardus, Mrs. Reeg, Mrs. Nocerine, Mrs. Marco, Mrs. Doll.

September found the language students experiencing an entirely new type of class — the oral-auditory approach. The equipping of the Language Lab would not have been possible without the generous efforts of all the members of the Mothers Club.

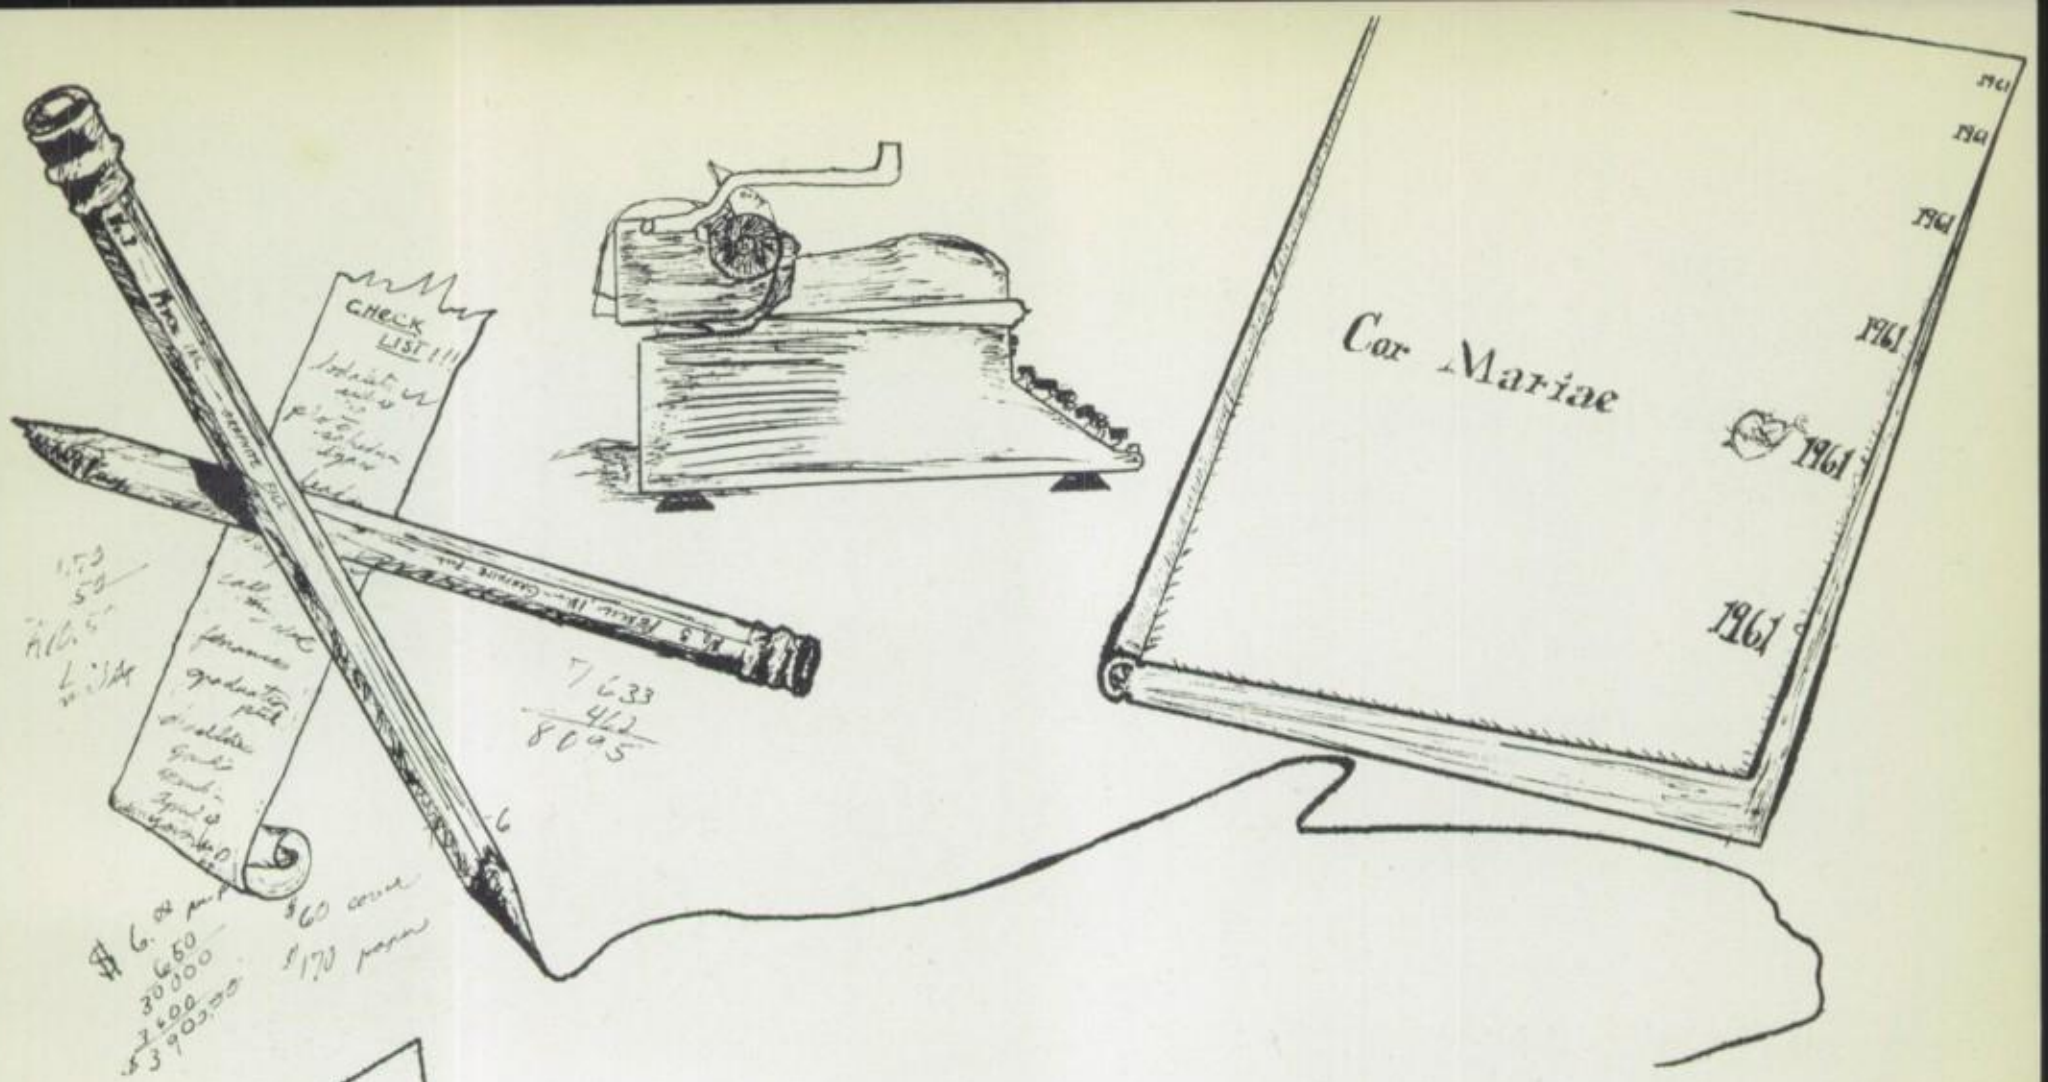
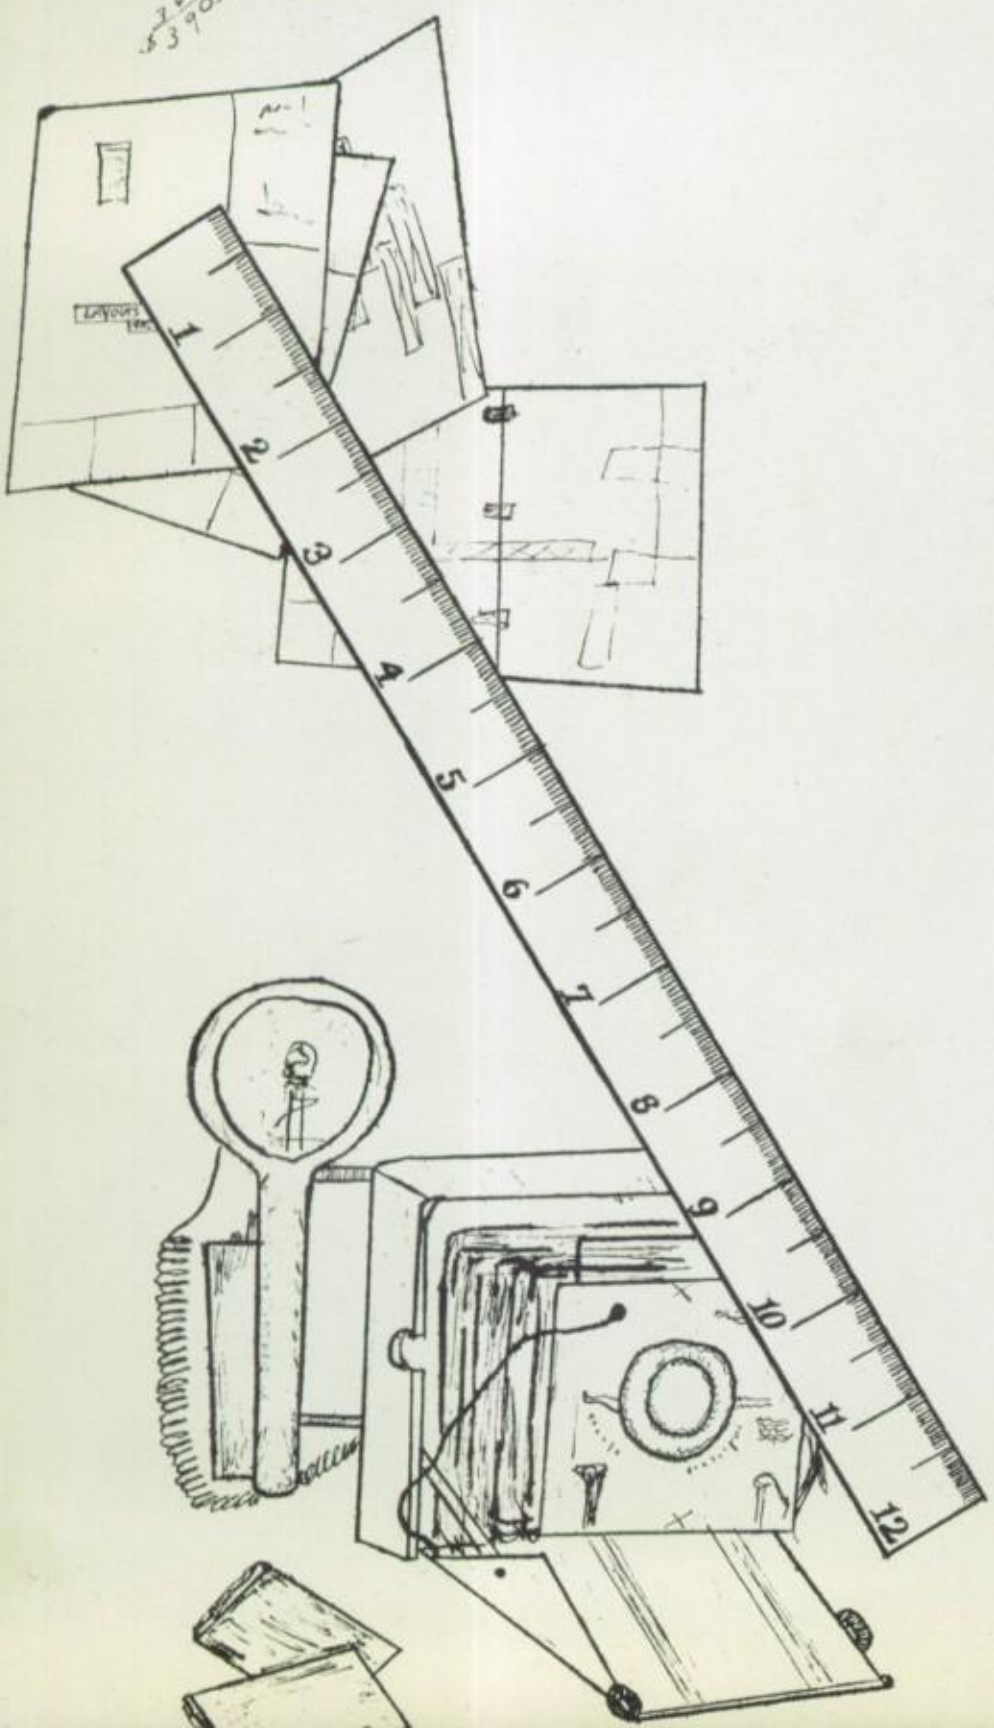
Enthusiastic and generous leadership wins for Cathy Smith coveted honor as representative to Girls' State

All packed and ready to set off for Sacramento, Cathy Smith looks forward eagerly to learning the inside workings of government.

Whether it's conducting a meeting of the Eucharistic Committee of Our Lady's Sodality, playing on the volleyball varsity or working on lights for a Genesian production — enthusiasm is the hallmark of all that Cathy Smith is engaged in. It was this very enthusiasm, coupled with general self-giving, which marked her as a student leader.

The administration and faculty had no trouble in choosing Cathy as representative from Immaculate Heart to Girls' State since she truly stands for the best to be found here.





the building of an annual — that is what it really is, this business of trying to compress between two bookcovers a whole year's living as done by 650 girls and 30 faculty members — is a precarious venture.

to move from a rather vague idea of a theme, dreamed up by the editor and moderator in the last month of 1960, to the yearbook held in the hands of the collective student body is a series of progressive steps similar to those which make up the construction of a building.

no matter how fine the theme idea or cooperative the faculty and students an annual must have the hearts and hands of a group of girls who are willing and able to see the idea through to a reality. It is extremely difficult—except for a few outstanding instances — to single out individuals who were most responsible for the final product — the 1961 COR MARIAE

thanks must go to BONNIE BENNER for division pages so painstakingly done, so cheerfully re-done.

to PAT McCLELLAND, NANCY REHM, MARY JO McBREARTY, KATHY HEDBERG, BONNIE ROESSLER, SANDRA ZELLINIKAS who made valiant efforts to "catch on" to a new way of thinking.

to LELIA GANEY, LUCINDA VRESZK, MIMI GALLANT, PAT HISHIKI, MICKEY MYERS for many little-noticed tasks, cheerfully undertaken.

to SALLY FOSTER, PATTI FIFIELD, TERRY ALNWICK, ADELE SCHROEDER, PAT SKEEHAN, SUSIE LA LONDE for the fidelity in carrying out their own tasks and pitching in with the left-undone tasks.

to CAROL COONEY and SUE FINLEY for the hours of checking what went into the INDEX.

to ETHEL OLAH and BETH REEG for the beautifully organized and highly successful "ad and patron drive."

to MARIA RAMIREZ who proved herself a true "jack-of-all-trades."

to SISTER M. GIOVANNI for taking over the financial end of the enterprise.

to KATHY RAUCHFUSS for more wonderful deeds than there is time or space to enumerate — but especially for your patience with a not-always-patient moderator, for your sense of organization and efficiency in a rather unorganized and not very efficient situation.

THANK YOU, KATHY, VERY MUCH.

Alma Mater

Raise on high your standards,

Sing to Alma Mater.

Immaculate Heart, we greet you

Every loyal daughter.

We'll lead you on to victory.

Never will we fail,

For the glory of the blue and white

Hail our Alma Mater, hail.

Dear Bea,

Thanks for all the laughs in English. My only regret is that I didn't meet you sooner. Good Luck. Have a nice summer.

Love,
Somi

Darling Bea,
Hello Kiddo!
Have fun on a Sept and I'll see you!
Love,
Yoko

Good luck always,
Love ya
